

Inch by Inch (The Professors Rule Book 3)

After two long, kink-free years apart, James Sheridan has reunited with his Professor: the sexy, dominant Evander Carson. But this time, things will be different. James is older, more sure of himself, and confident that he can draw the line between Carsons demands and his own principles. One of those lines is gorgeous menswear salesman Satish Malhotra. After their steamy dressing room encounter, James feels an unexpected connection to Satish, and he wants to explore it further. But Carsons involvement in James life, and in James and Satishs budding relationship complicates things. Carsons penchant for using other men in their sex games has always troubled James, and hes adamant that Satish not be just another notch in their whipping post. But when Satish learns what prompted James to pursue him in the first place, will James new ability to draw the line even matter? Word count: 13,450; page count: 54
